

JULES OF THE KAROO

THE PREMIER SPRINGBOK HUNTING
PROPERTY IN THE WORLD

Jules of the Karoo Safaris is recognized as the premier destination for springbok hunting worldwide. This remarkable property is home to free-ranging springbok in all four unique color variations: common, black, white, and copper.

It has consistently yielded more entries in the Safari Club International (SCI) record book than any other site, with eight of the top ten entries originating from Jules of the Karoo. Additionally, it boasts 79 entries among the top 50 for South African springbok. Notably, the current world records for South African springbok in both rifle and muzzleloader hunting methods have been set on this property.

For many hunters, the crowning achievement in their collection is the artistic representation of The Springbok Grand Slam, which features all four color phases.

The pursuit of a Springbok Grand Slam, featuring all four color phases, presents an exciting and demanding challenge that results in a vibrant collection for any trophy room. There is no better starting point for this adventure than Jules of the Karoo. Join the ranks of Mike Rogers, the host of the SCI Expedition Safari television series, along with a select group of individuals who have relished the experience of achieving the Springbok Grand Slam at Jules of the Karoo.
